

Job Description – Electrical Maintenance Engineer

We are currently looking for an Electrically biased Engineer for both planned and reactive machinery maintenance and repairs with a hands-on approach to join our Engineering team at EFI Ltd, Bristol.

The ideal applicant will be: -

- Time served Multi skilled Engineer with electrical and mechanical bias is essential.
- 18th Edition certified is preferred but not essential.
- Conversant with control gear, PLC systems and Motor drives; both AC and DC.
- 3 phase power supply knowledge essential
- Knowledge of hydraulic and pneumatic systems an advantage
- Fabrication/welding experience preferred.
- Experience of electrical installation work
- Conversant with Health & Safety Rules
- Team player with good communication skills

Ideally you will live near Bristol and possess a full driving license.
The role has a call out rota (paid) as well as overtime opportunities.

Salary: £35,000-£40,000 p.a. Depending upon experience. There is also a Sales Performance Bonus and Long Service award payable after an initial period.

- Full time position (39 hours per week). Currently on a day role.
- Holidays 20 days plus Bank Holidays increasing after 1 years' service.